FRANCO-JAP AGREEMENT MYTH, CHITA CONFESSES

Japanese Dodge Discussion Of Saghalien Occupation

ARE STILL THERE

Awaiting Formation Of 'Stable Russian Government,' Excuse

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive To The China Press)

Tokio, Jan. 15.—Chita has practically disavowed the action taken by its delegation at Washington in publishing the "disclosures" of Franco-Japanese unity regarding Siberia and the Washington Conference.

The Chita representatives at the Dairen Conference, replying to the Japanese communication of protest in the matter, declared that their delegates acted on their own initiative and received neither the alleged documents nor instructions regarding any disclosures from Chita. They expressed great regret over the incident. Thus, an incident which threatened to block the progress of the Dairen parley is considered entirely cleared up.

The Japanese delegation at Dairen report considerable progress recently. They say that Chita has conceded recognition of economic concessions and privileges obtained by Japan from former Siberian governments at Vladivostok.

Japan is now pressing for rights of navigation on the Amur River for all foreigners, and also for a declaration from the Chita government that it will not follow a communistic policy. It is officially denied that Japan is planning to demand the cession of Northern Saghalien or any part of the mainland.

It is stated that the Siberians are attempting to obtain discussion at Dairen of indemnification to Japan for the Nikolaievsk massacre which is the basis of Japanese occupation of Saghalien and the region about the mouth of the Amur. The Japanese refuse to negotiate this point at the present time, insisting on awaiting the establishment of a "stable Russian government" capable of carrying out any indemnification terms agreed upon. In the meanwhile, occupation of Saghalien will continue.

Peking, Jan. 12.—That there was at least some fire behind the smoke surrounding the recent publication at Washington by delegates of the Far Eastern Republic of an alleged Franco-Japanese Treaty covering Siberian questions is evident from the exchange of correspondence between Hr. Hughes, the American Secretary of State, and M. Sarraut, senior member of the French delegation since the departure of Messrs. Briand and Viviani.

Reports of this correspondence, which have just reached Peking by cable, reveal that M. Sarraut wrote to Mr. Hughes and told him that, while it was true that French and Japanese military representatives had discussed cooperative measures covering Franco-Japanese action in Russia and Siberia and had worked out tentative plans towards this end, nothing had been done that in any way committed the French and Japanese Governments.

To this communication Mr. Hughes replied, as previously reported, that he was glad that France and Japan had entered into no engagements involving the independence and territorial integrity of Russia and the Russian Far East.

From other sources the Chung Mei News Agency learns that the original copy of the alleged treaty is now in the possession of the Far Eastern Republic's Foreign Office at Chita, where it is open to inspection by interested and authorised persons.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 13.—The Chinese Chamber of Commerce at Suiyuan has telegraphed to the Government urging that General Ma Fu-shiang should be allowed to retain the post of Tutung of Suiyuan, at least for some time, owing to the important administrative measures which General Ma has in hand.

Whole Town 'Fingerprinted' In Effort To Discover Murderer

Frank Christiansen, bank cashier, was shot and killed in his bank at Glen View, Illinois, by a murderer who left an imprint of his fingers on a pane of glass. The police photographed the prints, and everybody in town is being checked up in an effort to discover the murderer. The Mayor issued a proclamation calling on all the citizens of Glen View to present themselves at the Town Hall. The town took a holiday, and every male from sixteen years up had his fingerprints taken. The photograph shows police officers registering the fingerprints of the inhabitants.

The adjournment of yesterday, the third since the inquiry was started, was owing to the fact that the Chinese authorities have so far failed to produce their witnesses.

ALL SHIPPING AT HONGKONG TIED UP BY STRIKERS

Foreign Vessels Now Involved —Seamen Refuse Arbitration

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Jan. 16.—The Chinese Seamen's Union has declined arbitration and the deadlock still continues for all shipping, excepting Japanese. The Harbor last night presented an unique appearance, all steamers being without lights excepting for oil lamps at their mastheads. As the steamers arrive in port the Union take of all the Chinese crews, including the Shanghai Chinese who are not members of the Union.

Hongkong, Jan. 15.—The Taiyo Maru and other sailings from Hongkong have been postponed owing to the seamen's strike. River steamer traffic is completely at a standstill.

The Kowloon-Canton Railway is carrying an abnormally large traffic and bringing in fresh provisions from Canton.

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Jan. 15.—The seamen's strike in Hongkong has now extended not only to coasting vessels but also to foreign ships.

Though the British Administration Office of Hongkong is mediating between ship-owners and representatives of the strikers and is at the same time advising the latter to return to their respective vessels, it appears the efforts of the Administration Office have so far proved to no purpose.

Americans Sell Lumber To Japan

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, Jan. 13.—Western lumbermen in the United States are finding an increasing demand for lumber due to the fact that Japan is now importing tremendous quantities of this material instead of using its own resources. The Japanese government, which owns all the forests in the empire, has prohibited all timber cutting and consequently that country is forced to look elsewhere for the billion feet of lumber it uses annually and has turned to the West Coast of the United States as the most advantageous market for its purchases.

Added to this action of the government is the fact that the Japanese are at present reconstructing six large cities. It is reported that cheap and flimsy construction is being rapidly torn down, streets widened, and preparations being made for paving and truck transporation in conformity with Western ideas. Through these two steps on the part of the Japanese the demand for lumber has been considerably increased and lumbermen on the West Coast of the United States are beginning to do a thriving trade with Japan.

WU PEI-FU NOT LIKELY TO INVADE PEKING NOW

Cold Weather Imposes Impossible Handicap, Belief

CABINET TO STAY

Foreign Observers Think Liang Is Safe For Present

BY JOSEF W. HALL
(China Press Correspondent)

Peking, Jan. 16.—Gen. Wu Pei-fu's threat of military action against Peking has taken no form thus far beyond the issuance of instructions to two of his Yangtsze divisions to "be in readiness" to move north. There have been no troop movements to date along the Peking-Hankow railway. In the meantime Gen. Chang Tso-lin has made no move, nor has he manifested any particular beligerancy.

Foreign military experts here declare that large scale operations in the Peking region would be a physical impossibility at the present time, as the loss of life from cold would be enormous. It is unbelievable, therefore, that Gen. Wu would sacrifice his men, who are even less prepared than those of Chang Tso-lin for the very doubtful benefit that would be derived from such an adventure.

Conservative opinion in foreign quarters is that the Liang cabinet will remain over the Chinese New Year, after which it may abdicate, followed by Gen. Wu's popular convention for re-drafting the constitution. The progressives would also like to have a crack at making the next cabinet, for purposes of exultation over their old enemy, Liang Shih-yi, but unbacked by any power either military or financial, such a government would be impotent.

It is believed here that Gen. Wu has already gained his chief point, namely, that of convincing by pointing out to Chang Tso-lin that his proper place is beyond the Great Wall. He has accomplished this through demonstrating that the lower Yangtsze uchuns stand with him. Should he decide to enter Peking he probably would not be opposed, but he would find the capital a white elephant on his hands.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 16.—The Cabinet situation is easier today. It transpires that a meeting of prominent Chihli leaders and their supporters at Paotingfu on Saturday passed a resolution to appeal to General Wu Pei-fu not to precipitate a crisis at present on the grounds of national welfare, as the Pacific Conference had reached a most important stage and internal disturbances would stultify the efforts of the Chinese Delegation, which was working valiantly for Chinese interests.

It remains to be seen how General Wu Pei-fu will receive this appeal, but the idea is gaining ground daily that General Wu Pei-fu's attitude toward the Cabinet has been greatly exaggerated by propagandists interested in discrediting Mr. Liang Shih-yi.

Meanwhile the Cabinet is endeavoring hastily to collect funds for the payment of General Wu Pei-fu's troops, which is overdue.

The financial situation has been considerably improved since the raising of the Customs duties has become practically a certainty. This has restored the confidence of the Chinese banks and the Government is not likely to encounter any financial difficulties.

The Cabinet has been daily growing in favor in foreign circles, which point out that it is the most able Cabinet since the Revolution and is essentially nonmilitarist, and contend that it should be given an opportunity to prove itself.

(China Press Service)

Hankow, Jan. 11.—General Wu Pei-fu, leader of the opposition party to Liang Shih-yi's cabinet now contemplates the formation of a Five-Province Alliance on the Central and Lower Yangtsze to consist of Hupeh, Kiangsi, Anhwei, Kiangsu and Chekiang. He has sent emissaries to these provinces to enlist their support in his movement against the new Cabinet, and already, with the exception of Anhwei, these provinces are taking concerted action in attacking Liang's men at Peking.

This is the first of a series of sketches by Arcady—the new staff artist of THE CHINA PRESS—depicting the difficulties of navigating Shanghai streets. In subsequent drawings the artist will picture the terrors of tram cars, brokers' traps, coolie carts and all the other Juggernauts that make the crossing of a Shanghai street an adventure that is as dangerous as it thrilling. RED CROSS ASKS AMERICANS HERE TO AID NEEDY

Redoubled Efforts Being Made To Increase Memberships

Redoubled efforts are being put forth by the American Red Cross for new members and particularly for funds with which to care for needs of Americans who become destitute in Shanghai. This drive supplements the drive recently opened for new members and has the support of Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul-General who has issued an official notice in connection with it.

Ordinarily Americans in need have been referred to the Red Cross for aid and through the agency of the Red Cross whole families have been supplied with transportation and sent on their way, but the fund with which this was done heretofore has become exhausted and must be replenished, else this phase of the work of the Red Cross in Shanghai will be hampered if it is not stopped altogether.

"The local committee of the American Red Cross is now raising funds to carry on civilian relief work at Shanghai. This work, which was formerly in the hands of the American Relief Society—being carried on by a Committee selected by the Consulate-General — has now been turned over to the American Red Cross, which is recognised to be the best medium through which assistance can be given to destitute Americans at this port. Americans in Shanghai are urged to give generous support to this drive.

"Edwin S. Cunningham,
AMERICAN CONSUL-GENERAL."

Navy Cut To Save Japs Y200,000,000

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Jan. 14.—The Naval authorities think that the necessary amendment to the naval estimates, due to the decisions of the Washington Conference, cannot be made in time for the coming session of the Diet which is convened for January 21.

The native papers report that the officials intend to convene a national defence conference to revise the present naval scheme based on the 8-8 program and then an extraordinary session of the Diet to legalise the scheme.

Naval officials estimate the surplus of the naval expenditures at roughly 200,000,000 yen and plan spending this amount for the necessary adjustment consequent to the unemployment situation and the construction of auxiliary craft.

The Canadian Pacific Steamships liner Monteagle which was due to sail from Hongkong for Vancouver via Shanghai and Japan ports next Wednesday, the 18th, has been delayed indefinitely owing to the seamen's strike.

FRENCH VOTERS EXPECTED OUT IN FORCE AT POLLS

Better Public Services Stand As Achievement Of Candidates

In recognition of the achievements of those members of the French Municipal Council who in the past twelvemonth effected improved public services in the lighting, water supply and in tramway schedules, and who today are up for re-election, it is believed that an exceptionally heavy number of votes will be cast in today's election in the French Concession.

In last year's election the outstanding issue was based upon a general demand in the French Concession for better lighting, a larger and more efficient water supply and a tram service more nearly adequate to the swiftly growing population of the French Concession. Candidates elected on the platform disigned to bring about these reforms fulfilled all pledges and it is thought that, while one contest is in prospect, a particularly heavy vote will be given by the electorate to express appreciation for what has been done.

There is to be no contest so far as the two seats of foreigners are concerned, those of M. Speelman and M. Shoop. The French candidates for the remaining places are: A. Arnaud-Coste, P. Le Bris, A. Chapeaux and A. Tuiasne, M. Chapeau and M. Speelman stand for reelection and were among the most active in the fight against the public utilities Company last year.

The polls will open at 10 o'clock this morning and will close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

To Ask Change In Formosan Rule

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Jan. 11.—Mr. Rin Ken-to, a political leader of the Formosans, arrived at Moji yesterday on his way to Tokio with the mission, he states, of introducing a petition in the present session of the Imperial Diet for the organisation of the Formosan Assembly.

"Every successive Governor General of Formosa seems bent on the possibility of completely assimilating the Formosan natives to Japanese custom," says Mr. Rin Ken-to interviewed by the "Jiji" representative at Moji, "but such an attempt would be futile, as will easily be realised by those who are well acquainted with the Formosan circumstances. The time will surely come when the Formosan natives will awaken to the signs of the times, and demand various political claims. The safety valve against such a possible tendency of the Formosans will be the organisation of an Assembly in order to grant the natives autonomy, as has been established in various colonies by the Powers.

"The present movement for the organisation of a Formosan Assembly was started many years ago, and several petitions have been introduced in the Imperial Diet, but so far with no result. It is my sincere hope that this time the movement will meet with success."

MADRAS QUIET AFTER OUTBURSTS; FIVE FATALITIES

British Prince Gets Fine Reception, Despite Agitators

(Reuter's Service)

Madras, Jan. 16.—Life in Madras today swung back to its normal, semilanguid course. The pongal festival is over, the bazaars have reopened and nobody is even mentioning hartals or riots.

The Prince of Wales had a busy day with formal minor functions. After inspecting the Leinster Regiment, formerly the Prince of Wales's Own Royal Canadians, His Royal Highness visited St. Mary's Church at Fort St. George, the oldest English church in India, which was completed in 1680. The Prince was much interested in the historic tombs of Munro, Pigot and Hobart and a tablet to the memory of Elihu Yale, son of the founder of America's great University. After lunch, the Prince played polo and then attended a garden-party at Government House.

Madras, Jan. 14.—Rumor has been killing rioters wholesale since the Prince of Wales arrived here. On making inquiries from the highest official sources, late last night, Reuter's special correspondent learned that the known number of deaths as a result of the fighting amounted to five. At that time all was quiet and the disturbances have apparently been effectually quelled.

Seeing that the population of the city is considerably over 500,000 the sense of proportion forbids characterising the outbreak as really serious. So little was the rioting preorganised that most of the mischief-seeking bands consisted chiefly of mere youths who went to war empty-handed, collecting missiles as they might.

The only really formidable crowd consisting of Mohamedans and budmashes, was dealt with by armored cars and armed police and speedily dispersed into desultory bands after damaging trams, breaking windows, wrecking gingerbread stalls and tearing down the decorations.

Madras occupies an area of 27 square miles, so that the rioters had plenty of opportunity to choose comparatively unguarded areas. The money value of the damage done is not appreciable and the whole business has had absolutely no effect on the Prince of Wales' visit, his reception having been magnificent. At all events the program is going without a hitch. His Royal Highness is spending a quiet day.

(Reuter's Service)

Madras, Jan. 15.—The disturbing element in Madras has settled into a sulky silence. The city is perfectly quiet. No further trouble is apprehended. The weather has been brilliant but very hot.

The city has expanded amazingly in decorations and illuminations since the Prince of Wales arrived. The crowds greeting his every appearance are steadily growing alike in size and demonstrativeness.

CHINESE TO PRESS FOR ANNULMENT OF DEMANDS

Wang Says Delegation Wants "Complete Abrogation"

JAPANESE YIELD

Agree To Return Administration Of Kiaochow

(China Press Service)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Wang Chung-hui, one of China's delegates at the Pacific Conference, tonight issued a statement indicating that the Chinese will press their request for complete abrogation of the Twenty-One Demands.

"It is inconceivable that, having courage to protest against demands made under the menace of an ultimatum, China would remain silent now when she is a participant in a conference the purpose of which is to remove international misunderstandings," Mr. Wang said.

His utterance is creating a deep impression among delegates at the Conference, who see in it notification from China that she will not be satisfied with a settlement of the Shantung question alone.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Japan has agreed to transfer to China the administration of Kiaochow.

The agreement will be effective when a complete settlement has been reached on the Shantung controversy.

The Japanese have also agreed to hand to the Chinese Government all the documents necessary for such administration.

New York, Jan. 14.—Baron Kato, speaking before the Japan Society, said that the conference signally promoted Japan-American friendship and said: "In a few short weeks we have dissipated the clouds that marred the naturally clear and happy skies of the Pacific. Two months ago, I heard loose talk of war, but today we are contemplating established peace."

Henry W. Taft, president of the society, said that Japan's acceptance of the armament proposals made the acquiescence of the other powers inevitable. Mr. Taft belittled the idea that Japan is trying to control China.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 16.—Speaking at a tea party at the Chinese Legation to welcome General Hwang Fu, Military adviser to the Chinese delegation to Washington, Dr. Wang Chung-yen, expert to the delegation and Mr. Woo Huan, the new Chinese consul-general, Mr. Chao Hsin-hu, the Chinese charge d'affaires, emphasised that China needed the sincere help and genuine goodwill of friendly nations, particularly Great Britain but China could never submit to intervention or exploitation.

The Chinese, he said, were convinced of the necessity for a policy of the open door in China and expected their neighbors and allies to help them to keep the door open permanently.

Mr. Chao read a message from the Chinese foreign minister stating that the new Chinese cabinet fully supported the orignal Chinese proposals at Washington in regard to Shantung and would not assent to any compromise.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Jan. 15.—Regarding the redemption of the Shantung Railway, the Ministry of Communications, as a result of yesterday's cabinet meeting, has issued a circular telegram to local provinces, reporting the policy of the Government towards this subject.

The gist of the telegram is as follows:

"Inasmuch as the Shantung Railway has of late yielded a profit of over $2,700,000 per annum, it will be seen that the prospect of the railway is bright. Chinese Bankers' associations, therefore, are to raise in the form of shares from the people the sum of Y. 30,000,000, that is, $27,000,000 required to redeem the Shantung Railway, which shall be controlled permanently by the people without any interference on the part of the Government.

"In the event of the shares floated among the people being insufficient, the Government is to raise domestic bonds to supplement the shortage. In order to float shares among the Chinese people at large, five and ten dollar shares are to be issued. Foreigners are prohibited to apply for the shares."

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 13.—The first batch of members of the Chinese Delegation to Washington has returned to China. Some of them reached Peking last evening and the remainder are due tomorrow. This party, numbering thirty-six, left San Francisco on December 16.

NEW GUNBOAT FOR UP RIVER LAUNCHED HERE

A new French gunboat intended for use on the Upper Yangtsze was launched here Sunday at the yards of the Societe Franco-Chinois de Construction Metallique et Mechanique.

The new vessel, the Balny, was christened by Mme. Wilden, wife of the French Consul-General and speeches were made by Consul-General Wilden and M. Laurent, managing director of the shipyards.

The Balny was constructed in France and sent to China to be assembled. It will be used for patrol work between Chungking and Ichang. It has a speed of 14 knots, is 190 feet long, has a 21 feet 6 inches beam and draws about 3 feet 6 inches.

Tsao Quits, May Get Swiss Post

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 12.—As was expected, Mr. Tsao Yu-lin has resigned the appointment recently conferred on him of High Industrial Commissioner, and it is understood that without awaiting the Government's reply he has tendered his resignation a second time.

It is thought probable that the Government will accept it, and, according to a report in circulation today, Mr. Tsao will shortly be nominated as a minister abroad, probably as Minister to Switzerland.

A rumor that Mr. Chang Hu will soon resign from his post as Minister of Finance is denied in semi-official quarters.

Peking May Get Self Government

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 12.—The Metropolitan Self-Government Association has submitted a petition to the Premier urging the Government to adopt self-government in the Metropolitan Area in order to increase the welfare of the people. The petitioners drew attention to the Mandate issued on January 1 which provided for the supervision of an administrative official, but in all other respects the governing body would be elected by the people.

The regulations for self-government both in towns and hsiens have been proclaimed but the questions when and where have not been decided. This omission obviously was intended to give the people an opportunity to consider the regulations and prepare for their adoption.

Armored Corsets To Be Worn By Police On Dangerous Missions

In the future when any member of the New York Police Department embarks on a particularly dangerous mission he will be protected by the latest device in light armor, a steel corset, or bullet-proof jacket. The jacket, invented by Albert Schwartz, of New York, is made of Norwegian steel plates, silk and canvas. It weighs only six pounds and has been proven practical in tests conducted in the shooting gallery at New York Police Headquarters. The jacket reflected a bullet fired at close range. The photo shows Mr. Schwartz wearing his jacket while permitting a bullet to be fired at him at close range.

Peking Gets New Version Of New Year's 'Incident'

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Jan. 12.—Legation Quarter gossip is busy these days with yet another story about the President's New Year's Day Reception and the British Legation.

The most current version of the rumor as passed around Chancery desks, fireside cocktails and Peking dinner tables is that the Portuguese Legation, in which is located the office of the Dean of the Diplomatic Corps, drafted the customary congratulatory address, to be read to the Chinese president by the acting Dean on the occasion of the presidential reception, and circularised it to the various Legations in the usual routine manner.

As drafted by the Portuguese Legation this year's address presumably differed but little from its predecessors. Platitudes, but pleasant platitudes, undoubtedly formed its substance. It was composed of phrases designed to make the president feel comfortable and happy and incapable of committing any one to anything or of doing either good or harm. As some one expressed it, "It was just the ordinary new Year's address."

BRITISH BALKED

All went well with the address until it reached the British Legation. But the British, according to Dame Rumor, felt that the document was just a little bit too congratulatory, to agreeable, and so another address, along similar lines, but slightly less effusive, was drafted in the Chancery of the British Legation and sent back to the Portuguese Legation with the suggestion that it be substituted for the original document.

All went well with the British substitute address, according to reports, until it reached the Spanish Legation, which is said to have held out for the original address. And so, after much discussion, it is said to have been decided that Acting Dean Obata should read the address drafted in the Portuguese Legation to the President on New Year's morning.

New Year's Day came. The Foreign Ministers and their respective staffs foregathered at the presidential palace and finally lined up in Indian file and in order of precedence in the presidential reception hall. President Hsu and his aids appeared and welcomed the Diplomatic Corps.

READS ADDRESS

Mr. Obata began to read the New Year's address in behalf of the representatives of the Powers of the World foregathered to do honor to the First Citizen of China on the First Day of the New Year.

But, to the surprise of many at least of the assembled diplomats, the address that Mr. Obata read was not the address drafted by the Portuguese Legation, but the substitute address written in the Chancery of the British Legation.

The Spanish Minister, it is stated, was indignant over the substitution of the British for the Portuguese address and let his indignation get away with him to the extent that he interrupted Mr. Obata in the midst of his reading and invited his attention to the error. To which, according to report, Mr. Obata replied that he would explain it all after the reception—and went on reading.

Such is the story which was first whispered with bated breath behind the closed doors of Chanceries. But it is worth the telling even though, as is always the case in such instances, it has proved impossible to obtain either official conformation or official denial of it.

FOUR SEAMEN FINED

Four seamen of the crew of the United States Shipping Board steamer Eldridge who were convicted of charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct yesterday in the court of U. S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl were all fined, but in two of the four cases sentences of thirty days in jail were imposed. Two of the quartette, each fined $10, were Carl Knutsen and G. F. Noberg. Albion Jewell and Chris Jacobson each were fined $20 and were given jail sentences of thirty days. The charges were filed on complaint of Capt. F. W. Brook, master of the steamer.

Jewish Young Men Form Organisation

The inaugural meeting for the Shanghai Young Men's Hebrew Association took place Sunday at 7 Jinkee Road where a large gathering was addressed by Mr. Goldenburg, the president, and by Rabbi Hirsch.

Rabbi Hirsch, who has been largely instrumental in organising the society, wished it every success and expressed the sincere belief that it would serve a very useful purpose by bringing the young Jewish men of Shanghai together. Mr. Goldenburg told of the need for such an organisation here and said that larger quarters would be necessary, the acquisition which would only be possible if a large membership were secured.

Body Here Discusses Formation Of Cabinet

The personnel of a new Cabinet is being discussed here by prominent members of the Political Research Society—including former Minister of Agriculture and Commerce Kiang Yung and Secretary of the Senate Koo Chu-lu—according to the Chinese press. Liang Chi-chao is regarded as the most promising candidate for the premiership.

STEAMER LAUNCHED

The Yunyang Maru for service on the upper Yangtsze between Chungking and Ichang, was launched at the Kiangnan dockyard for the N. K. K. on Saturday. The new vessel is of the same size and power as the other seven vessels built at the dockyards during the last two years.

The christening was performed by Miss Yonesato, daughter of the local manager of the Nisshin Kisen Kaisha, who pressed a button releasing the vessel and at the same time released a basket of pigeons, giving both their freedom.

How Much Life Insurance?

IT is sometimes difficult for a man to decide how much life insurance he ought to carry for his dependents. The following rule, born of observation and experience, is a safe one to follow:

"A man's life insurance should be large enough, when invested at a safe rate of interest, to produce an income at least half as large as he earned while living."

IT must also be in a safe company so that its payment is a certainty.

THIS week — THRIFT WEEK—is the time to take out the insurance that you should carry.

LLOYD GEORGE IN PARIS, HAS TALK WITH POINCARE

French Premier Favors "Old Diplomatic Methods;" Names Cabinet

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 14.—Mr. Lloyd George was very cordially welcomed by M. Briand on his arrival in Paris today. He afterwards had a long conversation with M. Poincare when all outstanding international questions were discussed, but it was impossible to reach any final decisions as M. Poincare had then not completed the formation of a Cabinet. The greatest reserve was observed regarding the interview but evidently the Cannes Conference was the main subject of discussion.

Undoubtedly M. Poincare's Cabinet will unanimously accept the Franco-British pact, though it is expected to ask for a more definite statement regarding reciprocal obligations.

It is understood that M. Poincare informed Mr. Lloyd George of his desire to revert to the old methods of diplomatic discussions instead of frequent meetings of the Supreme Council, which M. Poincare is of the opinion should only assemble in order to sanction decisions.

The Anglo-French conversations will be resumed immediately upon all current problems.

M. Briand also conferred at length with Mr. Lloyd George, who leaves for London tomorrow.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 15.—Baron Hayashi and the other Japanese delegates to the Cannes Conference have left for London.

(Reuter's Service)

Brussels, Jan. 15.—Interviewed on his return from Cannes, M. Theunis, the Belgian delegate, declared that the conference had in no wise been vain as far as Belgium was concerned. The protocol of the defensive Franco-Belgian understanding had been signed and would be submitted to the French and Belgian cabinets immediately.

Belgium's right of priority in the Reparations payment had been reaffirmed.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 15.—The new Cabinet comprises:

M. Poincare, Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs;
M. Barthou, Minister of Justice;
M. Manoury, Minister of the Interior;
M. Lasteyrie, Minister of Finance;
M. Maginot, Minister of War;
M. Leon Berard, Minister of Education;
M. Raiberti, Minister of Marine;
M. Reidel, Minister of Liberated Regions.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 15.—In the new French cabinet M. Sarraut will retain the post of Minister of Colonies.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 14.—A Washington dispatch states in reply to a question regarding the Anglo-French agreement, President Harding declared: "Anything that will ensure the safety of our French friends will be welcome."

The President added that nothing had yet been decided regarding the participation of the United States in the Genoa Conference.

Paris, Jan. 14.—The German newspapers today publish the text of the Reparations Commission's decision in regard to the next payment of the German indemnity.

The democratic newspapers do not conceal their satisfaction at this alleviation for Germany, but the newspapers of the Right are very sober in their comments.

Cockroach Dispeller Evokes Fire Brigade

Having been directed to exterminate a tribe of cockroaches, a small coolie employed by Mrs. K. Cutforth, 10 Hankow Road, yesterday forenoon gathered together a quantity of straw and touched a match to it. Shortly thereafter Central division of the Fire Department received a message from Mr. G. Sarkari, residing at the same address, to the effect that the place was on fire.

The firemen found that Mrs. Cutforth had come on to the scene before it and with much presence of mind had gone about extinguishing the outbreak. With the assistance of some of the servants she had the blaze well under control by the time the firemen arrived. The cockroach eradicator was given a salutary sort of talk and there were general congratulations elsewhere in the household, since the incipient conflagration occurred in a location which might have given a start to a very bad fire.

Hongkew division of the brigade received a call to 8 Broadway shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon where some bedding had taken fire. Inmates tackled the blaze and all that was necessary for the firemen to do was bring in a hand pump.

Hoover Sees Year Of 'Recuperation'

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Jan. 13.—In a recent speech before the United States Potters' Association, according to advices reaching here from Washington, Secretary Hoover stated that while the year 1921 had been one of liquidation, 1922 would be a year of recuperation. "The country has passed the worst stages of depression and is now on the upgrade," Mr. Hoover said, pointing out that activities in the construction business were sign posts of conditions throughout the country.

The Secretary further expressed the belief that a too literal interpretation had been placed upon the phrase "keep the Government out of business" and said that the export trade was one in which Government co-operation and assistance was very necessary. The phrase had been coined for application in getting the Government out of the business of operating railroads and ships, he explained, but many other lines of business need Government support. The export business was becoming more and more dependent upon the Government and was primarily involved in its assistance and service.

"White" Troops Menace Chinese

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 13.—The Cabinet, the Waichiaopu and the Ministry of War have telegraphed to the Tuchuns of Kirin and Heilungkiang saying that messages from the Chinese Chambers of Commerce in the Amur provinces have been received expressing anxiety on behalf of Chinese merchants at Habarovsk, owing to the presence of the White troops. Generals Sun Lieh-chun and Wu Chun-sheng were, therefore, instructed to send troops to the frontier with a view to impressing upon the White force the necessity to respect the lives and property of Chinese, in replying to this communication General Wu said that he has sent extra troops to the bank of the Amur River and had instructed the Taoyin at Heiho to secure an interview with the White leaders and endeavor to get an undertaking that Chinese residents should not suffer through the Russian military operations in that region.

An amah employed by a Chinese school teacher living on Paotung Road, Chapei, was murdered by armed robbers who looted the house on Saturday night. The teacher, Chao Sz-foh, and his wife found the woman dead with her hands and feet bound when they returned to the house after being away all day. She had been stabbed several times. One arrest has been made in the case, a ricsha coolie formerly employed by the family having been detained.

A meeting was convened Sunday by the Shanghai Educational Association at which various associations were represented. Various phases of the problem of district self-government were discussed and a pre-roganisation office was created and a temporary group of executive members nominated. It was pointed out at the meeting that Yuan Shih-k'ai was responsible for nipping the movement in the bud, that this movement must be closely related with municipal administration, that the funds needed should be provided by means of the levy of municipal taxes, and that men trained in municipal government should be employed whether they belong to Shanghai or not. In making this last recommendation Dr. Huang Yen-pei drew attention to the municipal achievements in the city of Canton, ascribing the successes to the fact that men trained in America were employed to look after the municipal undertakings.

The program of the Municipal Orchestra which was given at the Town Hall on Sunday afternoon will be repeated this evening at the same place. It is made up of the works of Bach, Beethoven and Brahms.

Russian Postal Service Normal

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Jan. 9.—The report of the Commissariat of Post and Telegraph points out the establishment of normal mail service between Soviet Russia and countries of the Postal Union and the new states which have not joined the Union. Lately the exchange of mails has been gradually established with the few countries which were averse to the restoration of relations with Soviet Russia. Parcel post has been repewed with the outside world through Britain. The exchange of mails has begun without the formal opening of diplomatic relations.

Telegraphic communication has also been restored almost with all countries, including official, private, and press messages. A concession has been signed with the Danish Northern Telegraph Company leasing to it the Russian cables which connect the Russian telegraph lines with those of western Europe on the one hand and those of the Far East on the other. Besides the £6,000,000 from the income which will go to Russia, the concession opens the Russian cables and telegraphs to the world.

Baseball Club's Meeting Tonight To Open Season

Members To Work For Season Of Co-operation All Around

When the Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club meets in annual session at 5:30 o'clock, tonight at the Carlton there will be a program of baseball topics instituted that will keep the players and the fans going until the first practice workout this spring. Aside from a complete replacement of officers, and an almost solid substitution of committeemen, there will be such subjects discussed as the fathering of hong league baseball, the importation of outside teams for games here this summer, and the taking over of the affairs of the Shanghai American Football Club.

If one may believe the rumblings heard about town things are due to occur and to happen this evening. The men who struggled and worried over coppers to clothe and manage the football club this fall, it would seem are determined to consolidate the two great American sports, football and baseball into one club. And the consolidation may develope, for the baseball men all are keen for football; they understand the difficulties of handling the fall game, and are believed to be in the mood to help their sister sport along.

Hong Leaguers, while they may not start anything at this evening's meeting, are determined upon their league this summer, and are hoping that cooperative arrangements can be made with the big club to father their games. It is fair to believe that some settlement agreeable around will be reached for the Club will benefit much by supporting the Hong men and baseball will be really and actually organised with both groups working together.

The questions of importing outside teams will be discussed fully. It is hoped, that with a careful cutting of expenses, the bigger membership list expected this year can finance a program of outside baseball such as has never yet been staged here, excepting perhaps during Olympic days.

The election of officers will be the item of chief formal interest. Herby Gallop is conceded the post as manager, with either Jack Smith or J. E. Griffith taking up the secretarial job so nicely handled last year by Woodrow Willson. For the presidency, Mr. H. H. Arnold of Andersen, Meyer Co., has a strong support. Committee places, with the exception of Bills and Crow are certain to be all filled with new names.

Last year's accounts which will be presented this evening for approval, show a balance of M. $815.45 after sending G.$400 or M. $729.68 to America for new supplies for the coming season. The report follows:

California And W. And J. Tie

Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 2.—Washington and Jefferson today tied California, the score being 0 to 0, in the annual Eastwest football game. The game was fast and clean despite the heavy mud, but accurate punting and passing were impossible. California with her open plays was unable to pierce the defense of their opponents. Nishbets punting was the main factor in protecting California's goal.

NINTH CAVALRY GALLOPS THRO' MANILA LEAGUE

They have a league of baseball down Manila way seven teams strong. The talent comes from the best of the army, the navy, the civilian and the native back lots. The Cavite, team, for instance plays the best of the flagship Hurons men, strengthened out by some Filipinos—Garcia, for one, who played here last spring with the Islands' winning nine. And there are others.

The 31st Infantry nine which played around Shanghai last summer, the Meralco team which is composed almost solidly of the Phillipines' nine which competed here in Olympic times, and several other good organisations constitute the league.

Finally they invited the Ninth Cavalry nine, which cleaned up Shanghai not so very far back, to participate in the league. The negros played four games quick. And now they lead the league with nothing less than a thousand percent.

Fort Mills, Cavite, Meralco and the rest of the league had a nice time fighting for first place in the league before the crack negro team from Stotsenberg got into the play. But Now—A Shanghai lander must bet on the horsemen from Pampango. We know 'em.

NAVY ATHLETIC OFFICERS LEAVE FOR HOME DUTY

Two of the best United States naval sportsmen that ever played in Shanghai, Lieutenant P. P. Welch of the Cruiser Wilmington, and Lieutenant Fricke, U. S. M. C., attached to Admiral Bullock's staff on the Wilmington, left for home Saturday, concluding their term of foreign service.

Lieut. Fricke was a star at football, baseball and basketball. Lieut. Welch was the ship's baseball captain and shortstop, basketball captain and center par excellence. He also was athletic officer for the boat.

Wilmington men while mourning the departure of their two sporting officers, who mixed and led so well at every game, are quite hopeful of maintaining their position afield in Shanghai and on the river. A new draft of thirty men contains a dozen ball players, and several of good basketball promise. When these are worked over and selected, and Merrill, of Shanghai fame, gets going at the basket game and his arm limbered up for baseball the cruiser boys believe they will have a successful season in spite of Welch's and Fricke's departure.

BOLSHEVIKI FROM JAVA HERE ARE SENT TO HARBIN

An order for the deportation to Harbin of three Russian Bolsheviki brought here from Java Sunday was made yesterday by British Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan of the Mixed Court.

The three Russians, Theodor Zinovieff, Teofan Zachartschenko and Vassali Rybischinksky, landed in Shanghai Sunday in charge of Police Inspector T. Ph. Hogendyk, of Batavia, arriving on the Dutch steamer Tjitaroen.

One of the first things the three asked when they arrived was to be taken before the "Soviet Consul." When informed that there was no such official in Shanghai they expressed great surprise.

The men were ordered out of Java, according to testimony adduced at the Mixed Court yesterday, on account of their activities in disseminating political propaganda. They stated that they were originally ordered sent to Vladivostok, but that they went on a hunger strike because Vladivostok is under anti-Bolshevik administration and they feared that they would be shot or hanged if sent there. In consideration of this the Dutch authorities changed the order to read for deportation to Russia via Shanghai. It was stated that the acting Consul for the Netherlands here protested to the Java officials when it was learned that the men were being sent here.

When informed by the Assessor that they could not stay in Shanghai two of the trio expressed a wish to be sent to Odessa and the other stated that he wished to go to Kiev. They were told that their choice lay between Vladivostok and Harbin, and quickly expressed a preference for the latter place.

BRISTOL OFFERS LARGE FACILITIES FOR ALL SPORTS

Sixty football and hockey matches in progress at once, goal-posts set back to back, and a few spectators standing gingerly on the touch lines, fearful of getting into the way of balls from both before and behind—such is Durdham Down on a winter's Saturday afternoon.

Few cities of its size can boast the facilities for sport that Bristol offers. Many teams, as in other towns, rent their own grounds around the outskirts of the city, but on Durdham Down 100 teams can play, merely at a fee for setting up and taking down the goal-posts.

On every week-day teams may be seen at play—local schools at their organised games, boys at football, girl at hockey—but on Saturdays the Down becomes the arena for contests between teams from all corners of the City. Churches and chapels, factories and stitutes, all are represented, and some fifty or so teams have formed the Downs Football League, to whom the words "home" and "away" are meaningless. The Down is always their battle-ground, and they ring the changes, Saturday by Saturday, on the sixty odd pitches on the grassy plateau.

"Soccer" is, of course, the favorite game, but Rugby are always represented, and generally there are some half-dozen teams enjoying the national game of Canada—lacrosse.

But spectators are conspicuously few. Those Bristolians who look upon sport as a spectacle are at Eastville and Ashton Gate; Durdham Down is sacred to those true sportsmen—and women—to whom sport is, as it should be, a recreation and who play for the sake of the game.

MOTOR BOATER URGES A JETTY FOR SMALL FRY

BY WATER BUG

The waters of the rivers and canals in the vicinity of Shanghai offer a wonderful opportunity for the operation of pleasure craft for recreation. Motor boats, sailing boats and house boats all have plenty of sea-room in these well-sheltered waterways. Innumerable voyages can be made, short or long, as may suit the convenience or fancy of the owner.

It is certainly one of the most clean and pleasant sports; it makes a strong appeal to those who have lived near the water or have had much to do with boats. In Shanghai, strange to say, we find a surprisingly few pleasure craft, most of these being expensive boats, necessarily owned by people with considerable means. Where are the hundreds of small craft which one sees at home? We do not see them. Certainly it is not from the lack of desire on the part of the average man to own and sail his own boat.

You can pick out any regular fellow and ask him if he would like to have a boat of some description, and he will tell you "yes," but, he will go on to say that it is pretty expensive and impractical, because there is no very good place to keep a boat. Well, he is right, it is and there is none.

It is not the first cost of the boat that is prohibitive. A man can always build a boat to suit his pocket book. It is, however, the cost of keeping the boat afterwards, and the inconvenience of actual use. It is very difficult to find a good berth for a small boat, and it is really necessary to keep a man aboard at all times. This, I believe to be the most serious drawback for pleasure boating and the very thing that keeps many people from owning and operating small boats for recreation.

It seems to me that a sport of this kind should receive every encouragement and that some plan should be evolved to build a jetty and berthing place for the small pleasure craft—a place where a fellow who wants to own a little boat, can tie it up, and know that the watchman on duty is not going to allow any unauthorised person to tamper with his property. A jetty of this kind should be constructed for the express use of pleasure boats, and it should never be used for handling cargo, or, as a landing place for ferry boats and other commercial craft.

I will admit that it is difficult to point out a location for a jetty of this description that would please everybody. It has often occurred to me that such a jetty could be constructed along The Bund, just north of the Peking Road jetty. This pleasure boat jetty could be made to look nice, and would in no way be detrimental to the appearance of The Bund, and it certainly would not be very expensive. This should be a place for tying up the small boats and should not be used for large house-boats or cruisers, as the amount of room available is far too limited for that purpose.

There would have to be another place provided for the use of house-boats and cruisers, and it is possible that this might be done somewhere in the mouth of Soochow Creek. The above, of course, are only rough suggestions, and there may be many reasons why it would be difficult to carry out the plan as I have outlined it. Nevertheless, I certainly believe that it is a matter worthy of serious consideration on the part of the Municipal Council, and I sincerely hope that in the near future the Council will give this matter consideration, as it is only with their help that a plan of this kind can be formed and carried out.

It will be very interesting indeed to hear the opinion of others who take an interest in this subject.

Pictures From Famine-Stricken Russia

The camera today gives us a view of suffering Russia. You see the pathetic spectacle of famine sufferers, an emaciated mother and child, and another woman prone on the ground, weary and half-starved. The mother is cleaning the child's head of typhus-carrying vermin with a piece of wood. News reports from the land of the Soviets tell of hundreds of thousands of such scenes as this. The healthy-looking man in uniform is Leon Trotzky, Bolshevist War Minister. The photograph was snapped as he was reviewing his Red Army in Kremlin Square, in August. For the first time you see "Big Bill" Haywood, American I. W. W. leader, as he appears in Russia, whence he fled to escape a twenty-year term in Leavenworth Prison, forfeiting his bail bond, put up by friends. Haywood wears American clothes and is shown surrounded by Bolshevists.

Nanking "U" Notes

The College of Agriculture and Forestry, University of Nanking, has just issued the 1922 Nursery Stock and Seed List. This list is much larger than formerly and in addition to a larger variety of seeds, trees, etc., directions for planting and descriptions of varieties are given. Fruit trees are offered for sale for the first time. Pecans and Black Walnuts are being furnished at cost price. Foreign plows especially adapted to Chinese conditions can be obtained from the College at attractive introductory prices.

All proceeds from the sales of the institution are applied toward the expenses of the College largely to the crop improvement work. Three thousand five hundred catalogs in English and three thousand in Chinese have been mailed in China.

Dr. George R. Grose, president of De Pauw University, U. S. A. was on the University campus last week. He preached to the university students last Sunday on "Jesus' Message to College students in China." Dr. Grose is on a touring trip to the Far East, collecting materials for a book on the life of Bishop James W. Bashford, who died in Peking some years ago.

Dr. J. E. Williams, vice-president of the University, will sail to America on the twenty-third by the s.s. Hoosier State for the purpose of raising funds to erect buildings in the University. Dr. Williams' trip to the States was authorised last October by the Board of Managers of the University.

Dr. J. W. Walker, father-in-law of Professor C. Wade-Jones of the department of English, will return to America on a business trip on the Taiyo Maru, which will leave Shanghai on the nineteenth. It is expected that Dr. Walker will return to China within a year.

President and Mrs. A. J. Bowen entertained the members of senior class Friday evening.

Engagement is being announced of Miss Lilliath Robbins, professor of English at Ginling College, to Mr. M. S. Bates, professor of history and political science in the University.

Dr. C. W. Woodworth, famous entomologist in America and who is now the director of the bureau of entomology in Kiangsu, spoke to the College of Agriculture Literary Society Friday evening. It might be worth noting that Dr. Woodworth was at the University in 1918 as a special lecturer on entomology to the former agriculture men.

Dr. H. C. Ren, formerly secretary of technical schools and colleges in the Ministry of Education at Peking, spoke to the college students last Saturday.

Fourteen senior college students in the advanced course of education on "How to teach English," taught by Professor Edwin Marx, are now investigating the teaching of English in the different schools about middle school grade in the city.

A farewell reception was given to Professor I. C. Folk, of the department of chemistry, Friday, in the Swasey Hall. Mr. Folk has been professor of chemistry since 1919. He is to be connected with some educational work at Canton with Mrs. Folk.

Martial Law In Texas Oil Town

(China Press Service)

Austin, Tex., Jan. 14.—Governor Patrick Ness today issued a proclamation declaring martial law in Mexia and the surrounding oil fields. Mexia is in the heart of the rich North Texas oil country, 100 miles south of Dallas.

Rangers have been on duty in the district for the past ten days directing a cleanup campaign directed at the large number of saloons and gambling houses which flourish in the district.

Governor Ness, in his proclamation, charged that there had been "open and flagrant violation of law, including highway robbery, murder, gambling, the open sale of liquor, and operation of disorderly houses," and that the local officials were "either unable or unwilling to enforce the laws."

Plumbers In U.S. Help Professors

(Foreign Press Service)

New York Dec. 15.—The grossly underpaid college professor in the United States arouses the sympathy even of the plumbers. This is indicated by a recent contribution to the Vassar College Endowment Fund which is unique in the history of college fund gifts.

It is a check for $25 which came unsolicited last week from the United Association of Plumbers and Steam Fitters, Local Union 180. The fund organizers are so pleased with the gift that they have considered framing the check. Plumbers and steam fitters have had the reputation, whether deservedly or not, from their supposedly high prices for service, of being the highwaymen of the business world. Their gift proves that they have large hearts. With it they sent a note which said:

"We believe in a fair rate of wages for all."

Army Transport Crook Limping In

(China Press Correspondence)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Radio messages were received today from the Army Transport Crook, that it was making satisfactory progress and would be able to make port at New York. The Crook was disabled during the recent storm which swept the Atlantic Coast. The vessel is bringing back to America approximately 1,000 members of the American forces who were stationed on the Rhine.

Commission To Revise Customs

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 13.—The Waichiaopu announces that the revision of the Customs tariff, whereby the customs duties will be brought to an effective five percent, will be in the hands of an international commission of which Adwiral Tsai Ting-kan will again be chairman. This commission will also meet at Shanghai.

The increase is to take effect four months after the conclusion of the Washington Conference and two months after the publication of the revised duties. It is not known whether the Washington Conference has decided upon the period from which the duties will be assessed, but it is anticipated that it will cover a number of years and thus again be below the present actual effective rate, owing to the great change in prices since the beginning of the war.

The Chinese Political Stage

BY JOSEF W. HALL

NORTHCLIFFE was right—in theory. When "The Doctor" misses it, he does so widely; when he hits it, he hits it "pat." On his recent tour through China which Punch has described with so much "punch," the veteran British journalist discovered that Japan controlled Chang Tso-lin, Chang Tso-lin controlled Peking, and therefore Peking's delegation at the Washington Conference in pushing China's case against Japan would be as a plaintiff secretly sold out to the defendant, and the outcome a farce. The only Lord in newspaperdom dwelt largely on this piquant situation in his exclusive interview to THE CHINA PRESS, adding his own little scoop, regarding which he delighted to boast, to the "boys" in Peking, that the Mukden satrap was, upon the evening of Northcliffe's call, busily engaged in framing a new Cabinet for Peking. Whether or not the Mukden chief volunteered this snappy bit of information to Lord Northcliffe, his Lordship did not say. Like a good newspaperman he did not disclose his source—this time. It appears more likely that the slate was drawn up at a later date—after the visit of Yeh Kung-chow to Mukden. But at any rate we must give his Lordship credit for a "beat."

The only persons who have apparently failed to meet his Lordship's prediction are the delegates. Japan controls Chang—when Chang wants to be controlled—, Chang controls the Cabinet—or makes a new one—, but the Cabinet thus far, it seems, fails dismally to control the delegation at Washington.

Under long range fire from the whole length of the northern bank of the Yangtsze, and Honan, Shantung and Shensi as well, the new administration has communicated its feeling of sincere embarrassment to its Mukden father. He has ordered it to stand its ground. He will soon be offered the opportunity of proving himself in the supreme test of fatherly affection—that of financing his child, past the China New Year. For greater love than this hath no Tuchun, than that he give his money for his government.

Apparently, unless Chang produces the coin, there is no hope of the Cabinet's getting past the settlement season. The native bank—Consortium loan is high in the air, and has mounted several additional degrees of altitude since popular opposition broke out a week ago. Even the customs surplus of some two-million dollars seems unprocurable, allegedly due to the obstruction of the British Minister. At least the diplomatic corps is delaying to release it. Further customs increase granted at Washington is too remote and uncertain to be acceptable as security for immediate loan, and it will have to pass the same hands which now have the power of upholding payment of customs surpluses.

While most of the house are hissing Liang, it is noticeable that the gallery, where sit the Nipponese publicists, has lapsed into sudden silence. The Japanese vernacular press which did not wait for the curtain to rise before pronouncing the show a failure, now begins to suggest that the multifarious protests are an ill-natured "frame-up" on the part of the recently dismissed actors, and unrepresented factions, whom it accuses of endeavoring to break up the show for utterly selfish reasons. Says the Shun Tieh Shih Pao, the veteran Japanese mouthpeice in Peking:

"We believe that this opposition is not prompted by any consideration for the good of the country and it is, perhaps, even not improper to say that it is actually the result of the selfish desire for power. Viewed in this light, therefore, even if the present cabinet had not been formed by Liang Shih-yi; or, if formed by Liang and pursuant of a different policy, opposition would nevertheless arise from various parties as now. We go further: even if the cabinet were formed by the Chihli party, there is every reason to believe that the various factions would rise in opposition to it. Realising this state of affairs we cannot but recognise that the day is far distant when the political situation will become stabilised. The situation can only be remedied by a fundamental change in the system of government. This is to form a government based on the real will of the people which can only be expressed when a parliament has come into existence. It is true that under the existing conditions it is very difficult to summon a parliament and it is equally true that a parliament summoned thereunder would be very imperfect but nevertheless it would do away with many of the political intrigues so rampant now, since struggles for political supremacy would be confined to the parliamentary hall."

Interesting doctrine from a Japanese pulpit, and not without truth. But the cynic is prone to ask, "Why are you preaching it?" Chang Tso-lin, we understand, wants a parliament to play with, reckoning that since he possesses the largest fund for bribery and his troops guard the parliamentary chambers he would be able through a parliament to control to a degree the provinces south of the wall from which his influence is now barred. Wu Pei-fu, aware that it would likely prove the tool of his rival, professes inability to see any real necessity for or benefit to be gained from a parliament.

Peking promises an interesting all-star bill for the coming two weeks, but titles and casts are unannounced. The two famous producers, Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu, are indulging in considerable rivalry as to who shall show in the one theater heretofore in use, with the result, it is rumored, that Wu entertains some plans, not yet fully materialised, for establishing a rival show-house.

GEN. FENG DEFENDED

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: My attention has been called to statements in the columns of your paper with regard to General Feng and the present situation in Shensi.

I should like to make it clear that I have nothing but respect and gratitude for the work of the missionaries whom I have met in that province, for their generous hospitality, and for what they achieved in the midst of complicated, and difficult circumstances during the famine of last year.

From personal knowledge of General Feng, and from information I have been at pains to collect, I believe him to be fair and upright, and wish him success in the difficult position in which he finds himself. Thanking you for the courtesy of your columns, I have the honor to be, dear Sir,

Yours truly,
J. D. Hayes.

By Woods Hutchinson: Instead Of Causing Disease, Salt Benefits Health

"Common Salt Is a Literal 'Blood Regulator,' Harmless Except in Huge Excess. Our Body Tissues Are Made Up of Tiny Particles, Each Carrying an Electric Charge Known as Electrons or Ions. Salt Liberates Free Hydrogen Ions, Which Do More Than Any Other Element to Make Breathing, Muscular Action and Vital Chemical Change Possible."

Nothing escapes challenge nowadays. Though we well know that life without salt would be dietetically flat, stale and unprofitable, scarcely a month passes our hearing it denounced as a worthless irritant and our hankering for it as a morbid craving.

It is confidently, hotly accused of "thickening the blood," irritating the kidneys, inflaming the skin, causing Bright's disease, rheumatism, eczema and even cancer and paralysis.

It boots us little to reply to these Jeremiads that our craving for salt dates back to a most impressive and authoritative antiquity. Not merely to our savage ancestors, but even to deer, elk, buffalo and antelopes, wild horses and cattle. That to this day our domestic sheep, cattle and horses, grazing more than twenty miles inland and beyond the sweep of the salt spray of ocean, will not thrive properly unless regularly "salted."

Also that from the earliest ages of history men have eagerly craved salt and insisted upon its pungent taste in their food. It has ever been a most important article of barter and commerce. In Central Africa a handful of salt is a day's wages; our word "salary" is derived from it, and every age has known what "not worth his salt" meant.

Salt taxes have always been one of the surest sources of revenue, because people were determind to have it at any cost.

ANTI-SALT BOGEYS

All this sounds like a perfectly good "come-back" for salt, but unfortunately it isn't, for the reason that when we get right down to cases and attempt to say just what good salt actually does in the body to justify this age-long craving we find ourseves up in the air.

Like the noble Duke of York and his ten thousand men or, more precisely, like the rural gentleman with his first revolving door in a hotel entrance who "went right in and turned right around and came right out again," salt marches boldly in through the front door of the body and passed through it and marches right out again through the skin and kidney filters without undergoing any apparent change whatever. It yields no nourishment, enters into no combinations, gives off no energy to the body. Yet we eat it eagerly, apparently for the pure pleasure of giving it a joy ride through the body.

Hence its food-reform accusers can always triumphantly retort: There, you admit that it isn't doing any good in the body. What else can it be doing but harm?"

Fortunately they disagree sharply among themselves. For instance, one school confidently claims that too much salt thickens the blood so that it can no longer circulate properly and thus produce rheumatism and all sorts of disturbances of the skin, such as eczema, tetter, "salt-rheum" and falling of the hair.

Fortunately for our peace of mind, another group is equally sure that salt produces its deadly effects by thinning the blood instead of thickening it, and although they agree upon the eruptions and eczemas and rheumatism, hold that it thickens and increases the vigor of the hair. So that, according to these prophets of evil, if you eat plenty of salt you will either thicken your hair or thin it, one or the other, with the strong probability that ninety-nine times out of a hundred you will do neither, but remain "as you were."

CANCER AND BALDNESS

Another allegation against salt is that by its effects upon the lime salts in the body it causes brittleness of the bones and increases their liability to fracture. If the salt eating be done late enough in life, this effect will probably follow in a fair percentage of instances, as brittle bones are one of the commonest signs of old age. But what the salt has to do with it would be a question.

One of the most serious charges brought against salt is that it causes cancer, and this has risen to the dignity not merely of an article of popular belief, but of serious scientific theory. Several of the searchers for the still undiscovered cause of cancer have endeavored to explain the greater frequency of this tragedy among the prosperous and well-to-do classes upon the ground that they ate more meat, particularly ham and bacon, and thus consumed more salt, which made their tissues more susceptible to cancerous change.

The only reason for its incrimination in both baldness and cancer is that both are conditions of the cause of which we know nothing, and very little of the cure, except in the latter by surgical removal from the body.

Both have been attributed with equal confidence to a score of other causes, such as meat eating, tomatoes, sugar, high hats, corsets, hot coffee pepper and spices. All with about the same foundation in reason, that they were increasing or attracting special attention at the same time that the disease was. Therefore they caused it. After the pure and placid logic of the savage who can see a striking similarity and relationship between cows and comets in that they both have tails.

One would think it was a comparatively simple matter to test out how much basis there was for the denunciations of salt by omitting it from the diet altogether and watching the results. But here we bump upon another of the difficulties of the salt problem, and that is that salt is so universally present in foods, in all our animal foods and most of the vegetable ones, that even by the most careful selection of those which contain the smallest traces of this omnipresent mineral it is impossible to pick out any diet on which life and health can be maintained which has less than about a teaspoonful a day in it. So that its accusers can hold it guilty of both cancer and baldness, if they insist.

On the other hand, while we actually need to maintain our salt balance from half a teaspoonful to a teaspoonful and a half out of the salt-cellar, according to differing authorities—scarcely more than one would put on a bird's tail to catch him—we actually eat on an average from the salt-cellar and in our food from four to six teaspoonfuls, that is to say, from five to ten times what we absolutely require. And this wanton extravagance is, of course, a perpetual temptation and invitation to cause hunters and calamity explainers of all sorts to pounce on.

Frankly, there is no adequate proof whatever for any of the graver accusations against salt, but, on the other hand, should any of its accusers come back with the question, "What good is all that five to ten fold excess of worthless mineral doing in the human system?" we had no answer ready until just recently.

There was, in fact, a certain color of reason about some of these accusations from the excessive amounts of salt meats which used to be consumed in an earlier day, particularly in Winter time, or on long voyages, and the disturbances and discomfits to which they gave rise. These were not unnaturally attributed to the salt, though now we know that they were due to scurvy caused neither by the salt nor by the meat, but by the lack of fresh vegetables and fresh fruits in the diet, and we have wiped them all out by adding lemon juice, potatoes and cabbages to our ships' diets.

Yet the pains in the joints, the inflammations of the skin, the soreness of the gums and teeth quite properly gave rise to the superstitions about salt as a cause of rheumatism, skin eruptions, teeth and hair troubles.

It is also true that salt sometimes increases the itching and burning of certain eruptions on the skin, such as eczema, probably by its local irritating effects when deposited upon the skin by perspiration. In some forms of kidney trouble, such as Bright's disease, the inflamed and damaged kidney has difficulty in filtering out salt, so that it is retained and piled up in the body. This means that water must be retained, also, in order to maintain the proper balance and density of the body fluids, and this produces dropsy, or "waterbloat."

CAUSE OF CRAVING

To relieve this dropsy the patient is put on a so-called "salt-free" diet, made up of foods containing the smallest possible amounts of salt, such as potatoes, unsalted white bread and unsalted butter, certain kinds of fresh meat, eggs, and certain vegetables and fruits, while at the same time the amount of water given is limited.

This in the course of a week or two brings down the amount of salt in the body to a level at which even the damaged kidneys can deal with it and drain away the surplus water. The same diet is sometimes useful in the dropsy due to heart disease and even that due to inflammation of the liver.

At last recent findings have given us an explanation of this craving for salt. It has long been known that one of the absolutely indispensable conditions to health and life is that our blood should be kept precisely at a certain density, or specific gravity, as it is termed, in the neighborhood of 1066, that of water being 1,000. words, our body cells will only live and work properly in salt water or, to put it figuratively, in weak salt water.

There are, of course, many other kinds of salts in the body which help to keep up this proper saltiness of the blood besides common salt or sodium chloride, carbonates, phosphates, sulphates, of calcium or lime, for instance, and potassium or magnesium. All the salts which are to be found in sea water in fact, are to be found in our bodies.

As most of us will remember from our high school chemistry days, there are hundreds of different kinds of "salts," because to the chemist a salt is simply the product of the union of an acid with a base, usually an earthy substance or a metal. Lime, for instance, is a salt of carbonic acid and calcium; blue vitriol is a salt of copper and sulphuric acid; Epsom salts are salts of magnesium and sulphuric acid.

But just for convenience, when we say "salt" without further qualifications, of "common salt" or "table salt," we mean the familiar and appetising chloride of sodium.

A "BLOOD REGULATOR"

Now, all these different salts of lime, of potash, of iron, of magnesium, are useful and necessary in the body, and we get a regular supply of them in our foods. But they are too gritty or too disagreeable in taste or upset the digestion or spoil the appetite too much in their pure form to be used freely as such in our diet. We wouldn't fancy, for instance, putting lime on our egg at breakfast or even eating the shell, or Epsom salts on our potatoes, or iron rust in our oatmeal.

Common salt is simply the most convenient salty substance which can be used for keeping up the proper density or thickness of our blood under varying conditions, and which can be taken by the pinch or the teaspoonful as needed. Our craving for it is nature's call for the keeping up of a sufficient reserve in the body for this purpose.

It is a literal "blood regulator," in fact. Its very inactivity is an advantage, because it is perfectly harmless except in huge excess, and if you get a little too much of it in the stomach the surplus can be drained out easily through the kidneys, with the assistance of a couple of extra glasses of water. This is one of the reasons why eating much salt makes one thirsty.

But its usefulness goes even deeper than this. The newer developments of chemistry show that the atoms of all forms of matter, including, of course, our body tissues, are really made up of tiny particles, each carrying an electric charge, known as electrons or ions. To put it very roughly, all the changes and activities which we call life are probably due to the flashing backward and forward of these tiny little ions with their electrical charges.

Curiously enough, the most active part of this electric flashing and play of life-lightning is carried out not by the most elaborate tissues of our body, the proteins, but by the salts which are suspended or dissolved in all our body fluids. As one eminent chemist has put it, "It is the salts which put life into the proteins."

To put it very metaphorically, their tiny particles, with their electric "sparks," flash about through the spongy tissues of our body like fireflies in a jungle. And sodium chloride is one of the brightest and most active little fireflies of the whole swarm, because it promptly splits up into two kinds of ions, one carrying a negative, the other a positive charge, resulting in the liberation of free hydrogen ions, which do more than any other one element in the body to make breathing and muscular action and vital chemical change possible.

So if you like plenty of salt on your food, take it. The craving shows your need for it, but be sure to follow up each teaspoonful from the salt-cellar with at least two glasses of water. Then you will flush out your internal "marine garden" with as cleansing and exhilarating effects as you would your lungs by deep breathing in the pone air.

Amateurs Have Endless Fun With Radio Outfit

(Foreign Press Service)

New York, Dec. 15.—Recent attempts of American radio amateurs to span the Atlantic Ocean, some of which were successful, is a fresh reminder of the existence of a great fraternity whose codes, songs, and even laughter go through the air at night. Long ago the United States Department of Commerce gave up the task of suppressing the amateur, and adopted the alternate course of recognising him as a human being and regulating his activities so that his messages would not jam the air to the interference of government and commercial business. As a result in the New York district alone, there is estimated to be about 20,000 licensed amateur radio operators. In the whole United States there is said to be about 200,000 of them, and the number is growing daily.

In addition to these, there are innumerable others who have neither the equipment nor the authority to enter the vast realms of the ether, but who take delight, nevertheless, in listening in with the aid of simple and inexpensive instruments; they are, in effect, silent guests of the great company that hold intercourse every night throughout not only the United States but throughout the whole world.

As a matter of fact, radio communication is held daily by the powerful professional instruments in New York with Paris, London, Japan and with South American cities. The amateur is restricted to less powerful machines that cover smaller territories, but even with these necessary limitations occasionally some remarkable demonstrations are made of the possibilities of the amateur transmitters, which are usually confined to 200, 300 and 450 meter wave lengths, as compared to the professional instruments, that go as high as 19,000 meter wave lengths.

AN AMATEUR RECORD

Within the year one of the most enthusiastic of American licensed amateurs established a record by relaying a message from Hartford, in the eastern state of Connecticut across the continent to San Francisco on the Pacific coast within nine minutes—an accomplishment that involved not only a high proficiency on the part of the amateurs who relayed the message, but a capacity for organisation work as well. Before that another amateur of New York City carried on a wireless telephone conversation with another amateur in the Rocky Mountain State of Colorado, and his voice was heard as far west as the Pacific coast State of California—a distance of over 3,000 miles. The significance of this feat may be appreciated when it is known that 1,000 miles is considered the professional limit for reliable commercial communications by radio telephone today.

At present the vast potential force of amateur wireless operators is largely unorganised so far as governmental agencies are concerned. There are, however, some private amateur societies, the most important of which is probably the American Amateur Radio League, of which Hiram Percy Maxim, son of the inventor of the Maxim silencers, is president. Although this organisation is only a few years old, it now has more than 6,500 active members, in addition to 300 affiliated clubs, with an aggregate membership of more then 10,000. Traffic routes have been laid out from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and not an evening passes that hundreds of radio league stations are not actively relaying messages. The league publishes, in addition, a monthly magazine, "Q. S. T." which has a circulation of 20,000.

BIG FIRMS HELP

The interest of the amateurs is further stimulated by a number of electrical concerns, such as the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. The latter has recently begun to send out a nightly concert from its new radio broadcasting station, a few miles outside of New York City. These concerts have an invisible audience of tens of thousands within a radius of 600 miles. The company also sends out an hourly news service. What this service means is picturesquely indicated by some of the letters of appreciation that the company receives.

A farmer at Red Wing, in the middlewestern State of Minnesota, writes that he is chiefly interested in the foreign news service—items from London, Moscow, Berlin—that are sent out before the concert each night. From Toronto, in Canada comes word that a little sick boy listens for the children's story, and that the hourly news service, five minutes every hour all day, helps make the days go faster.

Despite all this, it remains a fact that the amateur are still amateurs. Their stations are not operated for profit, but rather at a heavy loss. It is a recreation, and not a profession, and some of the more advanced civilian operators have spent thousands of dollars in equipping their station with corresponding results.

S. African Miners Will Arbitrate

(Reuter's Service)

Johannesburg, Jan. 14—The Workers' Federation has now accepted the Government's suggestion to confer with the Chamber of Mines.

The men doing essential services in the mines were withdrawn today but the mining officials have taken over the work in which they were most carefully instructed by the men, many of whom were most reluctant to leave work.

FAVOR RETENTION

(Reuter's Service)

Johannesburg, Jan. 15.—Despite the efforts of extremists, the Underground Officials Union is unanimously in favor of maintaining essential service in the mines.

Reorganisation Of Judiciary Costly

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 12.—On Tuesday last the Minister of Justice, at a meeting of the Cabinet, proposed that $130,000 should be set aside monthly from the Customs revenue to meet the cost of reorganising the judicial system.

The Cabinet approved this suggestion and referred the matter to the Shuiwuchu, from which the Cabinet has now had a reply saying that the matter had been referred to the Inspector General of Customs.
